

Astrologer Hagan Fox has captivated audiences across the UK with his unique ability to understand human dynamics through their date of birth alone. A-List celebrities, including Simon Cowell, Jude Law, Richard E Grant and Daniel Craig, have had their personal astrological profiles mapped out by Hagan to determine their own positive and negative characteristics and traits, in addition to how compatible they are in personal relationships.

Hagan has dedicated his entire life to researching and studying numerical systems and numerical behaviour to devise a universal – yet unique – system, which combines Eastern & Western astrology to understand human behaviour.

He is the regular astrologer on This Morning and has just launched a carefully curated series of live webinar workshops. The first webinar aired on September 8, 2024, with more dates to be announced in the future. The 'Secret Astrological Path to Success' workshop aims to assist participants in discovering their zodiac-based strengths and leveraging them effectively when determining their career path and life direction, to achieve happiness and fulfilment.
